The Country club was the scene of an interesting bridge party yesterday afternoon, followed by a 5 o'clock tea, when Mrs. Enos A. Wall and the Misses Selma, Alice and Mary Wall entertained about seventy-five of the younger society matrons and girls of the city.

The main rooms of the club house, where the guests were received by the hostesses, were still gay in Halloween effect, with the addition of gorgeously tinted asters, chrysanthemums and cosmos. Here, also, the thirteen tables of bridge were played. In the large, sunny dining room the floral decorations were artistic in the extreme. Miss Mildred McMillan presided at the tea and coffee urns at the daintily appointed table, which was covered by a rare Venetian lace cloth. A long low mound of Richmond roses and violets fringed with ferns formed the centerpiece, combined with broad streamers and bows of tulle in the shade of the roses.

Punch was served throughout the afternoon, and the occasion proved to be delightful. An interesting feature of the late afternoon was the presence of a number of the men belonging to the young society set, who appeared in time to enjoy a social hour and partake of the hospitality extended. On the appointed afternoon Mrs. Wall, with her daughters, will again receive a number of their friends, who will represent the older society matrons of the community.

Mrs. W. S. McCormick was the hostess at a family luncheon, given at her home in Center street, when covers were laid for a dozen.

The following society people will occupy stalls and loges this evening for the Liza Lehmann concert at the Salt Lake theatre: Governor and Mrs. William Spry and party, Colonel and Mrs. Edwin F. A party of one hundred from the Tabernacle choir will attend in body.

A simple but very pretty wedding was solemnized last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Darmer in First avenue, when Miss Ada Kinney and E. A. Hartenstein were married by the Rev. Elmer I. Goshen at 8:30 o'clock.

Only intimate friends were present to witness the ceremony, and Mr. and Mrs. Darmer were assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. Bird of Murray. Miss Gertrude Kelly played the Lohengrin "Bridal Chorus" as the bride and bridegroom, who were unattended, entered the parlor, where white chrysanthemums and ferns formed the attractive decorations. The bride wore a dainty white lingerie gown, with a veil of tulle, and carried bride's roses. A color scheme of pink was observed in the dining room, where the table was covered with a Hattenberg lace cloth, over pink, and was lighted by pink-shaded candelabra.

Streamers of rose-colored tulle reached from the chandelier to the corners of the table, terminating in bows, pink carnations forming the centerpiece, and were scattered over the cloth. Assisting in the dining room were four girl friends of the bride, the Misses Fannie Bird, Jennie Brockton, Jessie Trenam and Jennie McCarrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartenstein left on the late evening train for a month's trip to California and the coast, and will be at home after December 15 in their new residence, 187 K street.

High School Notes

At a meeting of the sophomore class yesterday the following officers were elected: William, president; Martha Martineau, vice president; Paul Bassett, treasurer; Martha Wells, secretary.

The appointment of the cadet officers has been postponed until Friday, because some of the officers that Capt. Webb had selected were among the number that were suspended from school and this will be counted against them.

The students at the school are trying to arrange a dance for next Saturday, so they may show the Grand Junction football team a good time. The debate in Mr. Travers' history class: "Resolved that the Railroads Should be Controlled by State Government" was won by the affirmative. There will be another important debate next Monday and the students outside of the history class, have become interested in this line of school work.

Professor Christenson has called a meeting of the High school band and it will begin practice tonight. He also stated that the band would play at the High School game on Saturday.

POSAM'S RARE HEALING POWER

Proved in All Troublesome Skin Diseases—Results Seen Overnight.

A skin affection treated with posam, the new skin remedy, immediately becomes responsive, itching stops and the trouble grows less annoying, less sensitive, until it finally disappears and the skin regains its normal color and texture. Germ life is annihilated. "For a great many years I have been troubled with salt rheum on my chest. Nothing gave me any relief. Now I am completely well and posam has done it," writes Mrs. Jessie Beach, Rockford, Mich.

All skin diseases, including acne, tetters, piles, salt rheum, skin scale, barbers' and all other forms of itch, are relieved and cured by posam. Itching, being stopped at once. The less serious troubles, such as pimples, red and inflamed noses, rashes, complexion blemishes, etc., respond so readily that results are seen over night.

Posam is sold in 50 cent (trial), 50 cent, regular jars, $2 by all druggists, particularly Schramm-Johnson, Drugs, five stores. For free sample, write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

Showing the New Hats for the Midwinter Season

Opening Days are busy days. Scores of women have viewed—and bought—the charming hats that authoritatively portray the midwinter styles.

For street wear interest centers largely in the collapsible turbans and the Peter Pan styles. Very chic and smart they are, too, for our artists have evolved charming combinations in velvet, silk, real fur and beaver, and the new French ribbon flowers.

For dressy wear, the large brimmed hats remain the favored type. Real fur, silk and fur-beaver are picturesquely combined with charming velvets, flowers and various feather trimmings. One stunning hat, a large brimmed beaver, is quite simply but effectively trimmed with a large ostrich aigrette and a small bunch of French roses.

It is worth while to stroll through the millinery department, even if only to get a first-hand knowledge of midwinter styles.
